

Summer storms destroy crops

Written by Elizabeth Barrett

Thursday, 15 July 2010 21:45 - Last Updated Thursday, 15 July 2010 21:49

FORCEFUL WINDS: Straight-line winds, estimated at 94 mph hours northwest of Gothenburg, were probably what blew over this pivot belonging to Gary Widholm in Wild Horse Valley. Between 60,000 to 80,000 acres of crops around Gothenburg were destroyed or damaged in violent, hail-producing storms Saturday and Sunday.

