Emily Cardenas born three days into 2011.

Wendy Cardenas didn't realize until Monday afternoon that her newborn—Emily Rae Cardenas—was Gothenburg Memorial Hospital's first baby of 2011.

"I figured there were plenty of others who were pregnant," Wendy said.

Emily came into the world by Caesarian section at 8:06 a.m. on Jan. 3. She weighted 7 pounds, 5 oz. and was 19 1/2 inches long.

One of the baby's five sisters—17-year-old Heather Cardenas—said she thought it weird that she would be 35 years old when Emily graduates from high school.

Sister Erica Cardenas, 18, said she was in shock when her mother told her she was expecting.

But with the arrival of a healthy baby, both said it was okay.

All of the sisters said they expected a boy and had a name chosen.

Other sisters include Paula, 15; Mary, 13; and Annette 12.
