Many days, passersby on city streets see Dick Larson mowing lawns, chipping wood for the Lions Club and helping out in a myriad of ways.

This Friday, Larson will clutch an American Cancer Society Relay For Life banner as he and other cancer survivors walk a Lap of Hope around the track at Cozad High School.

Larson, 74, is an honorary Relay For Life chairperson from Gothenburg.

Joining him from other Dawson County communities are Bill Andres and Paul McGinnis of Cozad and Bea King of Lexington.

Larson's bout with cancer began 10 years ago when a doctor, during a routine physical exam, felt a nodule on his thyroid.

Surgery in North Platte was scheduled with the plan to remove and biopsy the part of the thyroid with the growth.

The retired postal employee said he remained under anesthesia in case the surgeon needed to remove the entire organ.

"It was malignant so he did," Larson said.
