

Special instrument instruction

Written by Elizabeth Barrett
Friday, 31 August 2012 13:54 -

Flutists learn

Gothenburg band students, grades 7-12, received instruction Tuesday from two Kearney clinicians—Allison Fletcher (pictured right), who taught flute students, and husband Seth Fletcher, who instructed low-brass students. Band director Tom Belanger said he invited the clinicians because he wants to give students access to resources enjoyed by students in larger cities. Also pictured are junior Rachel Rice (left) and freshman Jenny Maline.