

Snow tunnel

Written by Elizabeth Barrett
Thursday, 17 December 2009 01:01 -

DECEMBER FUN: As temperatures climbed a bit above freezing Saturday, Dakin Brock (left) and Bennett Folkers built a fort out of piled snow from the Gothenburg Public Library parking lot. About half a foot of snow fell on Dec. 8 and during the morning hours of Dec. 9 which resulted in the cancelling of school and activities on Dec. 8. Temperatures have been well below freezing the past few days but a warmup is predicted to start Dec. 16.